Public Consultation for the Draft Animal Welfare Standards & Guidelines for Cattle and Sheep

Livestock SA is a new organisation that has been formed in South Australia to represent South Australian sheep, beef cattle and goat producers. It has taken over the role previously provided by the South Australian Farmers Federation.

While being a new organisation, Livestock SA has strong connections with the national peak livestock bodies for sheep and beef cattle - Cattle Council of Australia, WoolProducers Australia and Sheepmeat Council of Australia.

As Livestock SA has not been in a position as an organisation to consider the draft animal welfare standards and guidelines in any depth, in endorsing the submissions of these three peak organisations, we wish to strongly make the point that these proposed national standards should be national voluntary guidelines ONLY.

Livestock SA believes strongly that there is already legislation in place to cover cruelty to animals and there is no need for more regulation.

Yours faithfully

 Richard Halliday
